What is this Secret Keeper Girl event? Author Dannah Gresh has been fighting on the front lines to keep our culture from robbing little girls of their innocence. She developed from a series of books she has written, Gresh's fun MOM/DAUGHTER connecting resources presented Secret Keeper Girl LIVE to thousands around the country.

Now their latest show, the Pajama Party Tour has hit the road with an all-new stage show about modesty, fashion and true beauty! This event was created as a relationship-building event for moms and their tween daughters (typically ages 7-12), the two and a half hour event features DRAMATIZED stories about meaningful friendships, FUN fashion shows that demonstrate modesty, INCREDIBLE balloon sculptures, bouncing beach ball competitions, mother/daughter conversation time and colorful confetti cannons.

A handfull of moms are featured with their own hilarious fashion show in the new "Totally Tubular TV Mom's Show", a look at the fashion of some of TV's favorite moms (a great chance to talk about peer pressure!). Five special girls have been pre-selected as models for the tour's hallmark, a seasonal tween fashion show featuring Gresh's Truth or Bare Modesty Tests.

Billed as a practical modesty, fashion and beauty truth event, the all-new theatrical stage show has a pajama party theme. Attendees are invited to wear their fuzzy slippers. The theme enables the fantastic stage team to create an up close and personal "girl talk" feel, and to even address any concerns about a real pajama party where the girl talk could go the wrong way.

Danna Gresh has sold over three quarters of a million copies of her books, best known for her titles And the Bride Wore White and Lies Young Women Believe. Her most recent work, for moms of tweens who are concerned about the cultural pressure to grow up too fast, is Six Ways To Keep The Little In Your Girl: Guiding Your Daughter From Her Tweens to Her Teens
