A-State Recruitment In Full Action

JONESBORO - If you have ever wondered what it looks like to see full scale recruitment in action, the hallways and lobby of the Hilton Garden Inn was the place to see it in Jonesboro, Arkansas, this weekend.

Keeping a low profile, the coaches and media were all busy as the players filtered from rooms after a busy weekend of showcasing their talents in front of the A-State Red Wolves' coaching staff.

From down the hallway in recruitment headquarters, guests at the hotel will hear a loud applause irrupt as one of the recruits makes his verbal intentions known to the Red Wolves' coaching staff. The atmosphere in the room is electric as all members of the recruitment team are hard at work.

In visiting with James Bryant, media coordinator for Arkansas State Football, there is an entire new media performance that takes place with the recruitment process. His reporting is crucial to the success of their own website, from helping to keep Red Wolves Nation and its fans informed to updating national media sources

It's all new for the Red Wolves heading into the 2012-2013 season, as the high expectations for the programs continued growth and success are on the deserving shoulders of Head Coach Gus Malzahn. The anticipation continues to grow A-State fans everywhere.
