The Bearcat on the Fence

OCTOBER 12TH 2012 BY UNKNOWN

The Bearcat on the Fence

If you haven't passed by Charles "Seed" Bland Stadium lately you definitely need to make sure you come out to the game for Senior night. One of the projects that the Dexter High School Student Council did for Homecoming is worth seeing.

For the project of the fence decorations in the past many people have used red Solo cups stuck in the chain link fence to create a design. This year Student Council decided to do something a little different.

The Student council advisor, Jennifer Miller, and the Student Council looked for some things that would stand out and look nice for homecoming weekend. They found a product from The Prom Nite Company. It is small, reusable, plastic inserts that fit into the diamond shaped gaps in the chain-link fencing around the football stadium.

"The company sent us a small picture of how they were supposed to be installed." Miller recalled. "It was very time consuming and difficult to complete, but the results turned out awesome.

Student council members; Honey Patel, Rebecca Singh, and Kesity Twaddell completed the design. These students had to transfer the design from a small picture that was sent to the Prom Nite Company onto the fence by counting each space on that area of the fence.

This project turned out great and really looks awesome. It is something that will catch the eye of the fans and intimidate the opposing teams as they enter the stadium.

Be sure to come check out the great job that these students did on this awesome piece that helps to dress up Charles "Seed" Bland Stadium for Senior Night at tonight's game.

Homecoming Activities at DHS

Homecoming Activities at DHS

Homecoming week at Dexter High School is always a fun time. This week, just like every other week leading up to Homecoming for many years, has been filled with crazy themed days and fun activities.

To start off the week on Monday was pajama day where many students and faculty came to school dressed just like they looked when they rolled out of bed. On Tuesday the halls were filled with everyone supporting their favorite colleges by wearing shirts with their respective school logos, names, and mascots.

Wednesday the students was camoflage/animal print day and the students were able to choose between coming to school dressed in their camoflage or some wild animal print outfits. Thursday was twin day where students coordinated their outfits with a friend or several friends to look like each other.

The final day of the week Friday will be red and black day to show school spirit and support the Bearcat athletes. During 7th hour the whole school will be involved with or attend the Pep Rally to get the Bearcat student body fired up for the nights football game.

The DHS Student Council will get several clubs together to decorate the fence outside of Charles Bland Stadium. During the Pep Rally the Dexter Bearcat Marching Band will play the fight song while the football cheerleaders lead the crowd in a cheer.

The players from each fall sport; Football, Cross Country, Girls Tennis, and Volleyball will be introduced to the crowd. There will also be a pantyhose race with some of the members of the Freshman Football team and the Football cheerleaders.

The Pep Rally will have an on the field activity for all students from each class getting to participate. Closing out the Pep Rally will have the football cheerleaders performing their Homecoming halftime dance routine to fire up the student body.

Students of Dexter High School and fans of the Bearcats are encouraged to come to Charles Bland Stadium on Friday night to see all of the Homecoming festivities and watch the Bearcats take on the Charleston Bluejays.
