National Father-In-Law Day is an annual holiday celebrated every July 30th. It was dedicated to honor that loving, funny, and cheerful father-in-law. Perhaps he is a little grumpy or intimidating to the newlyweds. Regardless of his personality and charms, this day is dedicated to your spouse's DAD!

Enjoy spending some extra time bonding with and strengthening your relationship with your father-in-law today. This could be a day of golfing, hiking, playing cards, going to a movie, drinking coffee on the deck, fishing or whatever he likes to do.

If your father-in-law is no longer on this earth, remember him in a special way.

Though Father-In-Law Day is not a federal or even a state holiday in the U.S., it is one to be appreciated. The origin of Father-In-Law's Day is also unknown; however it is suspected to have been created by greeting card companies. Either way it's the perfect time to honor your Father-In-Law!

Happy Father-In-Law Day to all and enjoy YOUR day!
