Gov. Nixon to Deliver 2015 State of the State Address

In 2015 State of the State address, Gov. Nixon to call on legislature to work across the aisle to focus on priorities that will move the state forward.

Jefferson City, Missouri - Working across the aisle to focus on priorities will be a key theme of Gov. Jay Nixon's State of the State address tomorrow (Jan. 21). The Governor will call for continued fiscal discipline and strategic investments in priorities that will create jobs and grow the economy, including increased funding for public education at all levels. The Governor's address will be a call to action to bridge boundaries, transcend partisan divides and work together to leave the state better than we found it.
