Bollinger Heat & Air Reminder - Tax Credit Expiration is Soon

Dexter, Missouri - Jim Bollinger says, "Tax Credit Expiration Reminder," Call Bollinger & Son Heat and Air.

Don't forget, federal income tax credits for high-efficiency heating and cooling equipment are expiring at the end of the year!

For Air Source Heat Pumps (ASHP) and Central Air Conditioners (CAC), customers can receive a $300 tax credit for qualifying equipment.

New construction is not eligible for ASHP and CAC units. For Geothermal Heat Pumps, customers can receive a tax credit in the amount of 30 percent of cost with no upper limit, and both existing homes and new construction qualify!

Visit the 2016 Federal Tax Credits page on the ENERGY STAR website for more information on amounts, eligibility requirements, and how customers can take advantage of the tax credits
