PBHS Named National Beta School of Distinction

DECEMBER 18TH 2018 BY DEE LOFLIN

PBHS Named National Beta School of Distinction

National Beta has named Poplar Bluff High School a 2018/19 National School of Distinction for the chapter's boost in membership and commitment toward academic achievement, exemplary character, and demonstrated leadership and service to others.

Membership has increased last year to present from 16 to 91 students, according to instructional coach Stephanie Kuper, who sponsors the organization along with guidance counselor Sara Holloway.

"This prestigious honor is a true indication of Poplar Bluff High School's dedication to academic excellence, leadership development and commitment to celebrating their student's achievements," said National Beta's Chief Executive Officer Bobby Hart in an issued statement.

Founded in 1934, National Beta is the largest independent, nonprofit, educational youth organization in America. The organization recognizes outstanding achievement, promotes character and social responsibility, encourages service involvement to school and community, and fosters leadership skills.
