Stars & Stripes Museum Paint for a Cause Project

JULY 18TH 2024 BY DEE LOFLIN

Stars & Stripes Museum Paint for a Cause Project

Paint for a Cause - Cape Girardeau, MO will be at the Stars and Stripes Museum on Saturday, July 27 for Occupy Bloomfield-our Civil War event. We will also have a food truck on-site. Come by between 10 am and 4 pm.

A new mural is being created for the Stars & Stripes National Museum and Library in Bloomfield, Missouri.

Anyone, any age any ability can paint a triangle for a $2 donation. Paint will be put on the brush and participants will be shown where to paint. A journal will be kept listing each painter's name, age, job title, and hometown. Painters can paint in memory or in honor of a military person.

This Paint for a Cause project will be ongoing for a year or more. The public can stop by Painted Wren Art Gallery during business hours or at the Stars and Stripes Museum when the mural is scheduled to be there.

When this mural is finished, it will be permanently installed on the big, red barn at the Stars & Stripes. The journal and money raised will go to the Museum.

They are seeking venues to host this project, as well as sponsors for the project.

Painted Wren Art Gallery is located at 620 Whitelaw Avenue in Cape Girardeau.

Bootheel Regional Community Foundation Awards First Four Grants

JUNE 10TH 2024 BY DEE LOFLIN

Bootheel Regional Community Foundation Awards First Four Grants

The Bootheel Regional Community Foundation has awarded four grants of $1,200 each to non-profit organizations in Southeast Missouri to support programs with health-related purposes.

Grant recipients include: Dunklin County Caring Council for its Hygiene for Health Program; SEMO Food Bank for its Build a Better Childhood Mobile Pantry Program; Advance School District R-4 for its Personal Care Cart Program; and the Bootheel Youth Museum for development of an exhibit on Historical Medical Practices of the Bootheel.

This is the first round of grants awarded by the Bootheel Regional Community Foundation, which became the 54th regional affiliate of the Community Foundation of the Ozarks in September. Applications were sought earlier this year and were reviewed by a grant committee of BRCF and approved for award by the foundation's board of directors.

Grant funds must be used within the six counties of the Bootheel Regional Planning and Economic Development Commission—Dunklin, Stoddard, Pemiscot, Mississippi, New Madrid, and Scott. This round of funding was provided to BRCF by the Missouri Foundation for Health for grantmaking to address issues related to public health.

“We are very excited to award our first round of grants and look forward to the role BRCF can play in our region to improve the quality of life for families in the six counties we serve,” said Melissa Combs, chair of the board. “The board was pleased with the applications we received. We anticipate having another round of grants later this year.”

Members of the board are Melissa Combs of Kennett; Jayne Ellen Ray of Charleston; Christi Pipkin of New Madrid; Alisha Trammel of Dexter; Jonathan Douglass of Sikeston; Loyd Rice of Bloomfield; Nick Darter of Malden; Jana Carey Merideth of Caruthersville; Joel Evans of Sikeston; and Jim Grebing, director of the Bootheel Regional Planning Commission.

Community foundations offer a variety of charitable fund options like endowments, scholarships, and donor-advised funds, which are managed for long-term growth. As the funds grow, grants are distributed to eligible nonprofits, including education, faith-based and municipal organizations that work to improve the quality of life in the community.

Join Robert's Auto & Towing for National Automotive Service Professional Week

Join Robert's Auto & Towing for National Automotive Service Professional Week

National Automotive Service Professional Week is celebrated annually during the second week of June and this year, it takes place from June 3rd to 9th. Car troubles can be most frustrating - a flat tire when we have a long day ahead, a breakdown when we are running late, or being stranded in the middle of nowhere. It's not just the trouble, but the timing of it, and when it feels like nothing more can go wrong, it usually does. So, today is the day to thank the superhumans who keep our rides up and running and save us from troublesome days.

National Automotive Service Professional Week (N.A.S.P.) was introduced by the National Institute of Automotive Service Excellence (A.S.E.) in 2005. It came after the stellar success of N.A.S.P. Day which was first inaugurated in 2001. A.S.E., established in 1972, seeks to recognize the dexterous service providers who help maintain complex vehicles used for transportation. Tim Zilke, the president and C.E.O. of A.S.E., said that this week is aimed at recognizing the significant contribution of part specialists, mechanics, support professionals, and collision technicians who help keep the wheels on the motor industry running and allow the public to get on with their day-to-day commute.

If you are in need of repairs, oil changes, new tires, tire rotations, or any other kind of automotive servicing, Robert's Auto and Towing is one of the best places in Dexter to go to for great customer service and automotive repair. Robert and Tabitha Finch own the business and their son, Matt Finch is employed with them while attending college.

They are located at 213 E Business U.S. 60, Dexter, MO 63841 and their phone number is 573-624-3819.
